

Westside/Eastside Writing Center

The Westside/Eastside Writing Center is Now Hiring Graduate Students for Tutoring Positions.

We are looking for tutors with training in writing pedagogies and with teaching experience. We need consultants who are culturally sensitive listeners, perceptive readers, excellent communicators, and energetic problem-solvers to work with individual students. Graduate Writing Tutors will use their advanced training to help students develop their own ideas, strategies, and skills in university discourse. Language specialists are especially welcome.

Contracts can be for one quarter or for the academic year. The schedule is negotiable, typically offering 6-9 hours per week. Pay range is $20.24-$26.42 per hour, commensurate with training and experience. Please send cover letter, CV, and one faculty recommendation (email recommendation is fine) to: Andrea Seeger at anseeger@ucsc.edu.

Hiring immediately; positions will fill upon receipt of qualified applications and interviews.

